

Garage Door Service and Maintenance

If you start to notice garage door problems or want to begin regular maintenance on your garage door system, we are here to help. A technician will assess your garage doors and all parts and garage door springs to ensure everything is working properly. If the technician finds a problem, he or she will explain the issue and the steps to perform a garage door repair.

Ongoing garage door maintenance and service of your garage door system is important. The garage door is the largest moving object in your home that is used multiple times per day. For safety, security, and comfort, regular maintenance will prevent major repairs down the road.

Garage Door Repair

The garage door specialists have ongoing hands-on training to handle all garage door repairs that may occur. We can perform repairs on a variety of garage door components, including:

- Broken or damaged Garage Door Panels

- Garage Door Cable

- Garage Door Insulation Repair

- Garage Door Pulley

- Garage Door Seal

- Garage Door Sensor

- Garage Door Spring Repair

- Garage Door Track

- Replacement Garage Door

Garage Door Parts

All garage door repairs and service starts with the parts and we know where those hard-to-find garage door parts are located. If we cannot immediately find a part for a brand that is not in service, we will continue to diligently search until we find the part needed to repair your door. The Lee's Summit Journal even wrote a story about us, where we worked for a couple years to find a plastic cover replacement for a garage opener light.

Some of the garage door replacement parts and garage door accessories we can provide include:

- Garage Door Cables

Garage Door Handles

Garage Door Hardware

Garage Door Hinges

Garage Door Locks

Garage Door Seals

Garage Door Sensors

Garage Door Springs

Garage Door Track Parts

Garage Door Torsion Spring

Safety Warning About Garage Door Repair – Spring Replacement

When you see a broken garage door spring or know it is time to replace a garage door spring, please call garage door specialists instead of trying to do it yourself. There are many home improvement and repair services you can DIY, but garage door springs are not one of them. Garage door spring replacement requires a working knowledge of the spring itself along with techniques that maintain safety standards if the pressure on the spring breaks. We have seen and heard many horror stories of people trying to fix their own garage door torsion springs, causing extreme bodily injury. From garage door spring adjustments to full repairs, allow us to handle it for you.